

BETTER GROUND

PUGET SOUND CONSERVATION DISTRICTS SERVE YOU BY HELPING MAKE OUR REGION'S WATERS, FORESTS, FARMS, HABITAT, COMMUNITIES, AND SOILS – BETTER

In 2020, progress was persistent despite Covid challenges:

207 Rural and urban community conservation events

681 Wildfire resiliency assistance to communities and individuals

2,238 Property owners received farm and forest planning, engineering services, and financial assistance

14,238 Individuals participated in conservation education programming

People pods helping orca pods for Orca Recovery Day

Breaking ground with plantings to sequester carbon

"Forest owners face unprecedented challenges right now," said Kevin Zobrist, professor at WSU Extension Forestry, in reference to the forestry partnership between Puget Sound Conservation Districts. "It's essential to have forest stewardship support services such as theirs as landowners try to navigate those challenges."

2,205

New requests for guidance or assistance

93,834

Trees and shrubs planted

1,366

Site assessments for conservation solutions

BETTER GROUND

Free advice & services from your Conservation District.